

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

The Paper Highwaymen.

Newspaper owners are watching with interest the federal grand jury inquiry in New York into the past behavior of news print manufacturers. One phase of the situation is the portion of the anti-trust act which permits those who have been injured by the operations of a convicted monopoly to obtain damages from that monopoly. This would mean that in the event of a conviction newspapers which have been paying exorbitant prices for their paper would be in a position to demand restitution. This would come easily in the event of indictment and conviction. It would not be so simple by any means should the government fail to obtain both, for instead of conviction establishing the basis for a later judgment, the aggrieved newspapers would be compelled to prove their own case exactly as in a civil suit, standing on its own merits. It has been suggested that if the department of justice abandons its grand jury investigation it should turn over to the publishers the evidence it has gathered to aid the publishers in a fight of their own. The manufacturers virtually admitted their guilt and have allowed the federal trade commission to fix their schedule of prices for six months at a saving of about 40 a ton. They were anxious to have prosecutions stopped, but no promises were made to do this. The gang who robbed the publishers of $30,000,000 in one year will resume operations in September unless the courts act.

Turkey is now in a fair way to be bobbled up.

The native tribes of Arabia are said to be taking a hand in the expulsion of the Turks from their country.

President Wilson has called an extra session for April 16. The Democrats have 12 majority in the new Senate and a tie in the House.

A Louisville policeman has resigned to go to Los Angeles, Cal., as manager of a poultry farm. He ought to know all about pulling feathers and catching things on the fly.

Death has taken another hand in the organization of the coming House, this time in favor of the Democrats. Congressman Sulloway, of New Hampshire, is dead of pneumonia. A special election to fill a vacancy cannot be called later than March 16.

Senator Kern has refused a $6,000 secretaryship offered by the Senate of which he has ceased to be a member. He wants something better, with duties less like work and as long as sinners are to be given out, we all want him to be as well cared for as any of the lame ducks.

Congressman Schall, one of the five Independents, says he will help organize the House. Schall and one other are claimed by the Republicans, the Socialist and the Prohibitionist by the Democrats, while Martin, the Louisiana Progressive, is claimed by the slides. Either side needs three to five to win, with all voting.

NEWSPAPER IS INDICTED

Two Bills Returned By Grand Jury for Criminal Libel.

JUDGE BUSH EDITORIAL

Grand Jury Completes Its Work and Adjourns Finally.

The grand jury completed its work Saturday afternoon and adjourned finally after a session of two weeks. Another batch of indictments, some of them of importance, brought the total number up to about 50. Two separate indictments growing out of the Courier-Journal's attack on Judge Bush were returned. One is against Claude W. Perry, State news editor of the Courier-Journal, and the other against the Courier-Journal Company, alleging that they criminally libeled Circuit Judge Charles H. Bush. Mr. Perry is charged with "inducing" the Courier-Journal to publish an editorial criticizing Judge Bush in connection with the Lube Martin murder trial at Murray, Ky. The indictment against the Courier-Journal Company alleges that the intent and tenor of the editorial in question was to "disgrace and dishonor and injure" Judge Bush. Much correspondence followed the publication of the article in the Courier-Journal, which the paper refused to retract. In a letter written by Denny Smith, Commonwealth's Attorney, it was broadly intimated that the courts would be opposed to.

This is the case in which Governor Stanley made a hurried night trip from Louisville to Murray for the purpose of personally taking charge of the situation. The grand jury also returned a statement, signed by all the members, in which they "express our fullest confidence in Judge Bush and our firm belief upon that occasion he conducted himself as a fearless, upright and honorable judge and that any reports to the contrary are false, malicious and libelous."

In the case of Frank Parker, who had been in jail several months and who proved to be a troublesome prisoner, no indictment was found. He was charged with forgery and during his incarceration made one escape and was caught trying to make another a few weeks ago. The grand jury reported that the evidence was insufficient to indict.

Charges against Dave Long, col., for assault, and Link Kendrick, a colored woman, for malicious shooting, were also dismissed without finding bills.

WOODMEN ARE WITH US

Head Camp To begin Annual Meeting Today At The Tabernacle.

The annual meeting of the head camp of the Woodmen of the World of Kentucky will meet in this city for a session of two days. Of the hundreds of delegates expected, some arrived yesterday and the local Woodmen were busy looking after the visitors. The headquarters will be in the second story of the Moayon building, the Woodmen Hall.

The first public meeting will be at the Tabernacle this morning, when welcome addresses will be made and responded to by Judge Gregory and other distinguished visitors.

T. C. Underwood, Frank Bassett, Ira D. Smith and W. T. Fowler will hold up the oratorical end of the W. O. W. welcome this morning, matched against a couple of Congressmen. Claude Clark will be an eloquent listener.

The ladies' branch of the order will assemble at the Avalon at the same time.

DEPARTMENT STORE PLANS

Are Now In the Hands Of the Architect For Early Action.

ANDERSON BUILDING SURE

To Occupy the Vacant Mason Lot Purchased Ten Years Ago.

Architect John T. Waller is now at work on the plans for the new apartment store of J. H. Anderson & Co., to be erected on their lot bought ten years ago. Following the collapse of the Mason building during the high water of Nov. 1906, the company bought the vacant lot fronting 72 feet on Main and an ell in the rear of the Gish building fronting 35 feet on Ninth. Recently 30 feet was sold to the Woolworth company and the new building will front 42 feet on Main and run around to Ninth, with a frontage opposite the Cherokee building. It will be three stories high and equipped especially for their business.

Mr. Waller expects to have the plans ready soon, when bids will be opened and the contract let for the building to be finished before the end of the year. It will be provided with handsome show windows on both fronts and the upper floors will be reached by electric elevators.

The Main street lot is 150 feet deep and the building will almost double the capacity of the present Anderson store.

METHODISTS RAISED ENOUGH

Total of $16,000 Subscribed Up to and Including the Service Sunday.

The $15,000 balance on the new Methodist church, which the committee on finances started out to raise last week, was more than made up.

The five captains turned in an aggregate of $14,100 and on Sunday the amount was run up to $16,000, or $1,000 more than was asked for. This with the sale of the old church property will pay the $30,000 needed. The extra $1,000 will be applied to the organ debt the ladies expected to pay, the stewards formally relieving them of the obligation.

It has also been decided to place memorial tablets to Mr. and Mrs. Price who gave the old church site and to John C. Latham, who gave the new lot. They will be located on each side of the main entrance. These will soon be received.

The final report by captains was as follows:

Captain R. E. Cooper	$3,238.00
Captain F. K. Yost	3,207.00
Captain J. M. Neblett	3,264.00
Captain J. A. Browning, Jr.	3,177.50
Captain J. J. Robertson	3,178.20
Total	$16,064.70

POTATOES LOWER.

There has been a drop in potatoes from $9.00 to $6.50 a sack. At Chicago 35 cars of Colorado, Washington, Idaho and Oregon whites brought the price down to $2.25 to $2.40 a bushel. Wisconsin and Michigan then dropped to $2.20 to $2.35. The potatoe corner in New York was broken by the importation of Western stock. The Evansville price dropped to $2.08 per bushel, at least $1 lower than the recent inflated prices.

SUDDEN DEATH OF J. D. RUSSELL

Local Manager of the Christian-Todd Telephone Company.

STRICKEN IN BATH TUB

Body Taken To Nashville Yesterday For Interment With Elks Honors.

James Delos Russell, local manager of the Christian-Todd Telephone Co., died very suddenly at 2:20 o'clock Sunday afternoon at his home at 411 West 7th Street. He was apparently in his usual health and at about 11:30 went into the bathroom and had shaved and was taking a bath. Groans were heard in the bathroom about noon and upon investigation he was found in an unconscious condition in the bathtub. He never recovered consciousness. Everything possible was done for him but he expired at 2:20 o'clock p. m. Mr. Russell was born in Oswego, N. Y. in 1861 and the greater part of his business life was spent in this city. He entered the telephone business when 21 years of age and was recently awarded a 35-year service button by the system of which the local company is a part. He was possessed of wonderful executive ability and soon became a valued employee, who was sent from place to place to straighten out difficult situations. He had lived in Chicago, several Western towns and finally was sent to Nashville where he married. From that city he was sent to Hopkinsville as permanent manager of the old Cumberland Company in 1898. When the two telephone systems consolidated under a new name a few years ago, he was retained as local manager, a position he had held continuously for 19 years.

He is survived by his widow, who was Miss Sallie Wagner, of Nashville, and a daughter, Lillian, about 10 years of age. Mr. Russell was one of the oldest members of the Elks Lodge and was one of the early Exalted Rulers of the lodge. He also held membership in the Woodmen of the World.

His death was attributed to apoplexy. The Hopkinsville Lodge of Elks escorted the body to the train at 9:30 yesterday morning and it was taken to Nashville for interment. The Nashville Lodge will have charge of the burial by request of the local lodge.

The body was accompanied by W. R. Wicks and W. M. Hancock from the Elks and E. C. Thomas and S. E. Yancey from the Telephone Company and by Mrs. Russell and her two sisters.

Under the pension system of the Cumberland Telephone Co., to long-term employees, Mr. Russell's widow will be paid $1,080 benefits.

CARRANZA IS MEXICAN CHOICE

Elected President by Biggest Vote and in Freest Balloting Country Ever Knew.

VOTING DONE ON SUNDAY

Congressional Elections Held But Results Not Yet Definitely Known.

Mexico City, Mex., Mar. 12.—General Venustiano Carranza was Sunday elected president of Mexico by what is believed to have been the largest vote ever cast in the republic.

Although the voters had the privilege of writing in or declaring any name they desired, General Carranza received all but a few scattering ballots. The estimated vote cast runs all the way from several hundred thousand to a million. The presidential election Sunday was provided for in articles adopted by the constitutional assembly which met at Queretaro. Many of the old residents declare that this was the first real election ever held in the country. Reports from various parts of the republic indicate that there was no disturbance or intimidation.

Mexico will now have a constitutional president for the first time since 1911, when Francisco Madero received more than 300,000 votes. General Victoriano Huerta called an election in 1914 and declared himself elected, but later nullified the election on the grounds that an insufficient number of votes had been cast.

The election yesterday was simplified by the fact that there is no vice president under the constitution. It will be some time, however, before the returns of the congressional elections are definitely known.

A FURTHER RETIREMENT

Of Germans Admitted at Berlin on French Front.

In Persia the Turks are receiving hard usage at the hands of the Russians according to Petrograd. In northwest Persia the Russians have captured the town of Sahna and the Ottomans who were driven out of Hamadan are still in retreat. In Asia Minor, along the Sivas road the Turks attempted to go on the offensive but were repulsed.

No action of great importance has been reported from any of the other theaters of the war. The Germans near Novron, north of the Aisne have been engaged in a violent artillery duel with the French. Northwest of Rheims and near Bezenvaux attacks were attempted but were repulsed. The French, on the other hand carried out successfully several surprise attacks on German trenches. Berlin admits the retirement of the Germans before the British near Irles, on Saturday.

On the Russian front there have been only minor operations and artillery operations. There is no news concerning the situation in Rumania.

Artillery actions are in progress along the entire Austro-Italian front. An official dispatch reports the sinking of the Danish steamer Rosborg of 1,874 tons while on a voyage from Baltimore to Denmark. Six members of the crew were killed. The dispatch does not state whether the steamer was sunk by a submarine or mine.

FALLS TO THE BRITISH ARMY

Chief Turkish City in Mesopotamia Falls Before Army of Gen. Maude.

STRONG STRATEGIC POINT

One of the Oldest Cities in World and 2,700 Years Ago Population Was 2,000,000.

London, Mar. 12.—Bagdad, the chief Turkish city in Mesopotamia, and formerly the capital of the empire of the caliphs, has been captured by the British forces. Announcement of the capitulation of the city was made this evening by the British official bureau.

The statement was received on receipt of a telegram from General Maude saying the British forces had occupied Bagdad early Sunday morning. No details of the capture of the city were contained in Gen. Maude's dispatch.

Apparently the occupation was effected without resistance and with only slight losses. Even if the Turks succeeded in extricating all their forces the loss of Bagdad is a grave blow to them. Bagdad has been the base of all Turkish operations in Persia. Up to within a few days ago the Turks occupied about 20,000 square miles of Persian territory, but with the Russians pressing them closely from Kirmanshah, as well as from the direction of Erzerum, indications point to a speedy junction of the British and Russian forces, which would soon compel the Turkish evacuation of Persian territory.

BAGDAD 4,000 YEARS OLD.

Bagdad's capture marks the climax to one of the most dramatic and picturesque phases of the world war. The city which has fallen to British arms links the present to a past so distant that it is semi-fabulous. The known history of Bagdad reaches back for more than 4,000 years to the shadowy times of King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon. A quay built by the scriptural monarch is still existing, submerged in the Tigris. Within its precincts also there still stands the tombs of the Jewish prophets, Joshua, Ezra and Ezekiel and the well of Daniel.

Long after the Babylonian dynasty had ceased to be more than a memory, Bagdad rose to splendor as the artistic, literary, scientific and religious capital of the world. The heart of the great Islamic empire of the caliphs for hundreds of years, it was known throughout the world as "the glorious city" and was the scene of fantastic exploits of Haroun Al-Rashid, the potentate, whose magnificence is expressed in the Arabian Nights.

WORLD'S FIRST CITY 2,700 YEARS AGO.

In 800, B. C., Bagdad was founded with a population of 2,000,000 and was easily the first city in the world in wealth and commerce. With the fall of the caliphs before the Turkish sultans, the decline of Bagdad commenced. It was successively the prey of Turks, Mongols, Tartars and Persians, but it was not until 1914 that the city became definitely a part of the Turkish empire.

For the first time in the country's history a father and son are both members of Congress at the same time. Senator John H. Bankhead has represented Alabama in the upper house for many years. At the November election his son, W. B. Bankhead, was chosen to represent the district in the lower house.

DANGER LURKS IN COAL PILE

Simple Precautions That Should Be Taken to Prevent Combustible Material From Taking Fire.

Various conditions affect the weathering of coal, tending to preserve or destroy the pile. Reporting an investigation to the Canadian department of mines, Dr. J. B. Porter shows that the kind of coal is a prime factor in the problem, that the presence in it of such unstable carbonaceous compounds as resins and humus promotes oxidation, that pyrite and marcasite are effective as disintegrating agents and that fine coal or dust presents a vastly greater surface for oxidizing action than lumps. A low pile ensures less pressure. Compression and shutting out of air increase the risk of destruction, while excess of air, though tending to facilitate oxidation, actually lessens the effect by conveying away the heat. Dry coal is so poor a conductor of heat that the presence of a heated spot in the pile may be unobserved until rain penetrates to the interior, finding its way back as steam. The temperature of the coal at time of storage is important and the heat of a summer day makes it dangerous to store coal exposed to the noonday sun. The shining of the sun on the pile after storage has less effect, as the heat absorbed is given off at night.

VALUABLE GIFT TO MUSEUM

Collection of Tomb Jades That Are Known to Be More Than Twenty Centuries Old.

A gift of distinction made to the Metropolitan Museum of Art and put on exhibition this month is a collection of 105 tomb jades presented by Samuel T. Peters. This fills out a similar presentation made by Mr. Peters to the museum about two years ago. The later pieces are much finer and the whole makes a collection that probably cannot be excelled. Not all of the collection has been put on exhibition, but two cases can be seen in the east end of the gallery previously used for special exhibitions and now devoted to far eastern art.

These tomb jades date back to about 200 years B. C. They are not formed of the clear jade used by the Chinese at a later date, but of the matrix and are in unusual shades of browns. There are a large number of amulets which were placed at the mouth, nostrils and eyes of the dead to prevent the entrance of evil spirits. There is the Pi, a large round flat piece of jade with a hole in the center, an emblem of heaven, a gift of honor; there are "waists of dignity" and carved pieces of jade, buckles possibly. A few of the pieces which had not been buried date as far back as 1,000 years B. C.—New York Tribune.

DAY OF RED LAMP GONE.

The electric current is rapidly displacing the old-time red lamp, which it was customary to place as a warning against temporary obstructions. An electrical exchange recently printed a picture of a large sign, which was placed in the roadway to indicate that the road was closed during repairs, and at night time this sign is illuminated with several electric lamps.

HAD IT ALL.

An officer in charge of a company of infantry at San Antonio, wishing to time the rapid firing, turned to the company and asked if anyone had a watch with a second hand. There was no answer for a few minutes and then one of the later arrivals remarked: "Please, sir, I have a watch that is all second hand."

SEEKS MORE FOOD FROM SEA

Future Steaks May Be Cut From Whales, Sea Cows, and Walrus—Said to Be Palatable.

An ever-resourceful commoner, seized with a realization that three-fourths of the surface of the earth is water and practically a waste, as far as production of varieties of diet are concerned, believes that the mammals of the sea are worthy of cultivation as food, says the Popular Science Monthly.

It is estimated that the meat of one 60-foot whale, for instance, is equal to that of 70 head of cattle and tastes like choicest beefsteak in flavor when properly prepared.

Other marine mammals which are good for food as well as for commercial purposes are the seal, the walrus, the dugong and the sea cow. The dugong has always been prized for food by Asiatics, Africans and Australians, and the sea cow, formerly found in the waters of the Bering sea, were so noted for the palatableness of its flesh, its size and for its gentle fearlessness of man that it has been almost entirely exterminated through man's greed.

How Tailors Sew on Buttons.

Tailors double their thread used to sew on buttons, make a knot, hold the knot in their teeth while they twist the thread; they wax it, and that keeps it twisted. Then they put a pin across the button, and after the buttons are sewed on they remove the pin, and wind the thread around several times, making a kind of stem. This makes it more easy to button the garment. The buttons on children's waists should be sewed on this way, so more than one garment can be buttoned to the same waist.—National Magazine.

Sloan's Liniment quickly takes the pain out of strains, sprains, bruises and all muscle soreness. A clean, clear liquid easily applied, it quickly penetrates without rubbing. Sloan's Liniment does not stain the skin or clog the pores like mussy plasters or ointments. For a sore, rheumatic aches and pains, neuralgia, toothache, lumbago have this well known remedy handy. For the price of a few cents, following a reasonable trial, it gives quick relief. Can be used 25c.—Advertisement.

Bargains and Romance.

It is difficult to resist the romance in the statement that Manhattan Island was bought from the Indians for $24 worth of trinkets, and that the city, which now covers and overflows it, spends more than $200,000,000 a year on upkeep alone. And it is impossible to resist the conviction that contemplation of the trinket transaction by descendants of the Indians who parted with Manhattan Island is not calculated to change their belief that the palatage was out for the long end of the bargain from the first.—Christian Science Monitor.

Would-Be Purchaser of Horses Had Not Learned Everything to Be Known About Animals.

"Steel is now paying a big dividend on the common stock," said Willard E. Straight of the Morgan firm, "and there are financiers, so-called, who used to declare steel common was a swindle."

"A little knowledge, in finance as in other regions, is a dangerous thing. These chaps were a good deal like the retired hatter."

"A rich retired hatter decided to set up a stable. Accordingly he dropped in on a boyhood friend, a harness dealer."

"George," he said, "I'm going to buy some horses. Now, of course, I don't want to have a lot of old Methuselahs foisted off on me. Tell me how I'll know how old the nags are when they're trotted out for my approval."

"You tell a horse's age by the teeth, Bob," said the harness man. "You see—"

"But the hatter was in a hurry. He understood the dodge now. No use wasting any more time in the smelly harness shop."

"Thanks, George," he said, and dashed off.

"The next day a pair of perfect coach horses were submitted to the hatter by a leading dealer. As the beautiful animals envetted before him, he asked their price."

"About two thousand dollars," said the dealer.

"The hatter advanced. He opened the horses' mouths. He studied their strong white teeth carefully. Then he gave a harsh laugh and said, as he wiped his hand on his handkerchief:

"Take 'em away. They're each thirty-two years of age."

BEATS JIMMY VALENTINE.

Though no one would wish to cast a smudge upon the lustrous fame of Jimmie Valentine, that great hero of melodrama, it must be admitted that his laurels have been endangered by the wonderful feat attributed to Hyman Sugar, a mere youth of twenty, who was arraigned in court on a burglary charge. If the police are to be believed, this young man of the seafaring cognomen demonstrated not only that he could get into a vault, but get out of it after having been locked in. A watchman found Sugar in the vault and slammed the door shut. He then went for the police. When they returned and opened the vault door there was no Sugar to be seen. The imprisoned youth had worked on the outer door and had opened it and made his escape. Sugar was captured later.—New York Correspondence Pittsburgh Dispatch.

DON'T SPECULATE IN DAIRY EQUIPMENT

It doesn't pay. The Dairymaid power separating outfit is a safe investment. It pays regular dividends in dairy profits. The outfit includes a Dairymaid separator and an IHC 1-H. P. gasoline engine, with a back gear attachment. The drive from the engine is direct, and the back gear pulley runs the separator at just the proper speed. The change from engine to hand drive can be made instantly. The special friction clutch pulley prevents any engine shocks or vibrations from affecting the separating process.

When not in use for separating, the engine can be used to run any small farm machine at a saving of time and cost. A few of the features of the Dairymaid separator are phosphor bronze bushings at all wearing parts, semi-steel spiral cut gears, trouble-proof, self-aligning neck bearings, and excellent oiling facilities.

Come in and see the outfit for yourself. It will be worth your while.

Remember that the Dairymaid cream separator is the only separator made which is power driven at the base. Every gear washed and oiled by splash system from oil bath. Simonds, of the New York Tribune, who for two months has been in Europe testifies to the effectiveness of the submarine as a weapon, and says that "Americans should recognize that Germany means to continue the submarine war without regard to neutrals because it does hold out a promise of ultimate triumph."

Mr. Simmons says the struggle has become a duel to the death between Germany and Great Britain. France is playing a relatively small part.

"Let it be frankly recognized, then," he says, "that Germany is calculating correctly so far as material things, count, in risking all on her submarine venture. Let it be recognized that unless the British hereafter find an answer not yet discovered for the submarine there are difficult days ahead for Great Britain."

London is giving out that the loss of shipping in February is only one-half that which the Germans estimated they would inflict. They destroyed about 500,000 tons. But this is a very deceptive method of figuring. The submarine warfare has been almost completely successful in keeping neutral shipping in port. Great Britain since the war began has been dependent largely on the Dutch, Scandinavian and American merchant ships. Most of the stock of these companies is owned in London. This explains partly the ruthlessness with which Germany submarines sink neutral ships. It is well known by the commanders that these ships are not really neutral. Even if they were, their traffic is almost altogether to supply the allies. The submarine blockade is endeavoring to stop supplies for England. It has cut off over half of these. In normal times something like four million tons a month are delivered in English ports. Of late months, not over two million.

Mr. Simonds sees, too, that even if the submarine campaign does not save Germany this time it may do so in the future. It "has opened a new horizon," he says. "For," he says, "unless the answer to the submarine be found there is a frank realization that the blockade of Britain in the future and by submarines of still greater power will be a consequence of subsequent war."

And yet, seeing all this, we go ahead spending $600,000,000 on an old-fashioned fleet.

Were we not intensely bigoted in our adherence to the allies we might also see that success of the submarines would wipe the slate clean so far as superior sea power is concerned. The smallest of countries can defend itself with submarines, and with mines and coast defense of modern type.

The world will never cease its wars until armaments on land and sea are reduced to strictly defensive bases. The Atlanta Journal in a paragraph quoted on this page lays stress on Prussian militarism. Has it been any more of a cause of trouble in the world than British navalism? Were the fleets of all nations to be reduced to innocuous power, then might humanity have a chance to build on a new basis.

Dynamiter Joins Marines

Chicago, March 12.—Robt. S. Phillips caused a flutter of excitement at the Marine Corps recruiting station, when he offered to enlist.

"I am out of a job and want to join the Marine Corps, if you can use a man of my profession," he told the Sergeant in charge.

"What can you do?" asked the Sergeant.

"I can blow up anything from a tin can to a battleship. I'm a professional dynamiter."

Phillips was accepted and to-day is on his way to Charleston, S. C., where he will join a company.

Chess is one of the oldest games known. It was mentioned in Oriental literature about 2,000 B. C.

SALVATION ARMY RECLAIMED HIM

August Vetterline Once Convicted Here Is Now In Evansville.

August Vetterline, who is being cared for at the Salvation Army home in Evansville, is said to be a German army lieutenant, newspaper editor, former wealthy ranch owner and school teacher now 69 years old. He came to America 35 years ago and his only son was killed during the Spanish-American war. He was tried in this city for passing a worthless check and sentenced to two years in the Eddyville penitentiary. He served as a shipping clerk at the prison and through good behavior was released after serving eighteen months.

From the gates of the Eddyville prison Vetterline wandered to Evansville and drifted into the Salvation Army home there recently, where he has been taken care of since.

Bewildered, realizing his failure in life, Vetterline, once a daring army officer, wealthy rancher, editor and school teacher is now searching for some means of earning a living.

His is one of the many stories which come to the attention of the Army officials.

EGG CIRCLE

To Be Organized At H. B. M. A. Tomorrow Morning.

Mr. D. D. Slade will hold a meeting at the H. B. M. A. tomorrow at 11 o'clock to organize a "Ladies Egg Circle" for Christian county. The object is to organize the ladies of the county into a club to dispose of eggs at the best market price to guarantee the freshness and the filling of orders in a business like way. This plan of organization is expected to greatly stimulate the poultry industry in the county and make many women turn their attention to eggs as a revenue producer.

SOME DEMOCRATS

Angry Because Postmasters Put Under the Civil Service.

Washington, March 11.—Many Democratic members of congress were angry today over the announced intention of the administration to extend the merit system to all postmasters of the first, second and third classes, after April 1 by executive order of the president. They declared the effect would be to place in office many Republicans, and some said the purpose was to draw Republican support for administration measures in the next house, whose political complexion is so uncertain. Postmaster General Burleson explained the move was prompted by reasons of economy and efficiency, however. Postmasters now in office will serve out the four-year term for which they were appointed, but after April 1, the president will fill each vacancy by appointment of the man making the highest grade in examinations, which are yet to be arranged.

Job for a Versatile Man.

According to a London paper, the Lady's Magazine for 1789 contained the following comprehensive advertisement: "Wanted, for a sober family, a man of light weight who fears the Lord and can drive a pair of horses. He must occasionally wait at table, join in household prayer, look after horses, and read a chapter in the Bible. He must rise at seven in the morning, obey his master and mistress in all lawful commands, and if he can dress hair, sing psalms, and play at cribbage, so much the better. Wages, fifteen guineas a year."

Protection Against Catarrh.

Any constitutional exercise which improves the circulation and makes the body resistant helps to protect one from catarrh. This is particularly true of all breathing exercises because the effects are beneficial locally as well as constitutionally, says one of the best-known physical culture teachers in New York. So let us teach our children the value of correct and deep breathing, and in doing so we improve our own health and thereby impart cheerfulness and happiness to our home.

Animal Isles.

There is the Isle of Dogs and Whale Island, Pewitt Island in Essex and Crane and Gulf Islands off the coast of Cornwall, England. Near Lundy Island are Rat Island and the Hen and Chickens. A few miles off the coast of Wales are Puffin Island, Sheep Island and the Cow and Calf Island in Pembroke.

Gano Warder Kills Negro.

OUTLOOK IS ENCOURAGING

For a Bigger Fair Than Ever Next August.

The fair directors met yesterday and held a conference with the representatives of the various roads in regard to the coming meeting of the Pennyroyal Fair. Messrs. Mustang, Brasher and Chandler, of the L. & N., T. L. Morrow, of the I. C., and Capt. Cherry, of the T. C., all promised low rates and special efforts on the part of their several roads to make the fair more successful than any previous year.

President J. J. Metcalfe named the standing committees, and the directors and others present were all enthusiastic over the prospects for the fair, which is to be held, the last of August.

Another Congressman Dead.

Representative Cyrus Adams Sulloway, the veteran Republican member of Congress from the First New Hampshire district, died in Washington late Saturday. He was 75 years old. A congressional delegation has been named to attend the funeral Wednesday in Manchester, N. H. Two vacancies now exist, restoring the tie in the House. Both seats will likely be filled by special elections by April 16.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Speculation as to the organization of the House April 16 is now rife. The official standing of the incoming House is as follows: Republicans 215; Democrats, 214; Prohibitionist, 1; Progressive, 1; Progressive-Protectionist, 1; Socialist 1; Independent 1; and one vacancy in a Democratic district in New York. Republican leaders are worried over the illness of three of their members and the statement of a fourth that he does not favor Representative Mann for Speaker. Representative Hill, of Connecticut; Sulloway, of New Hampshire, and Graham, of Pennsylvania, are ill. Though their condition is not thought to be serious, there are fears that Representatives Hill and Sulloway may not be on their feet again for some time.

Which were carried over from last year. These we will sell AS LONG AS THEY LAST at very close prices. REMEMBER: Material of every description is advancing daily and you will save from ten to twenty per cent by buying that SILO now. What ever you do, don't place your order for a Silo without first talking the matter over with us.

DON'T BUY A SILO ON

"Take It for Granted Basis"

No other farm equipment serves as useful a purpose as the silo; yet no other equipment is so much bought on the "Take It for Granted" basis. It naturally results in inferior silo equipment being foisted upon the farmer, for which he pays exorbitant prices. Here is the way you can know—not take it for granted—you are getting the best in silo construction, and are paying for no more than you receive. Get posted on the

TECKTONIUS SILO The World's Best Silo Construction

You'll then know for yourself what to expect and demand in the silo you buy, to insure the highest class construction—the most perfect service.

Tecktonius is in one Grand Class by itself in all Tank and Silo Equipment Service. No others are comparable to it. Without reflecting on your silo knowledge, we affirm, Mr. Farmer, that you cannot know—do not know—what a silo construction should be can be and really is in the Tecktonius—until you know about and see the "Harder Patent Continuous Door Design"—the Tecktonius Self-Adjusting Silo Hoop and Door Fasteners, Silo "Hinge" Door and "Double Check" Anchor System—the really vital factors in all silos.

Licensed under Harder Patent No. 627732

Tecktonius "Self-Adjusting" Silo Fastener automatically adjusts silo to all straw swellings and shrinkings. Only one of Tecktonius silo many exclusive features.

The Tecktonius Silo is assembled entirely on our yards and sold only by us in this territory. It is equipped complete with the Tecktonius Matchless Fixtures, giving you a silo that cannot be matched in any feature of its construction or service. We also can save you big money on its cost, for we do away with the dozen and one silo profits and extra freight charges you pay the silo manufacturer for inferior silos.

You would not think of buying a "Rake Off" Reaper after seeing the modern binder, would you?

Neither would you think of buying one of these "19th Century" silos after knowing about the "20th Century Tecktonius."

Don't even think of buying a silo until you get posted on the Tecktonius. It will put you "wise" to the shortcomings of the others. Send for

MULE HAS LOST PRIVILEGE

Southern Pacific Refuses to Furnish Private Car to Animal Who Used to Travel in Luxury.

A bas le mule!
The Southern Pacific says so. No more, says the San Francisco Chronicle, shall one mule arrogate to himself the daily use of a private car, thereby contributing to the car shortage.

While all the world has been shouting for cars, it seems that one Fresno farmer has hit upon a scheme to keep a freight car continuously at his disposal. Every morning he shipped a carload of hay from Fresno to Floyd, nine miles distant. Every evening the car came back to Fresno to be ready for the morning load of fodder.

How did he do it, when other shippers were plastering that car with requisitions?

It was easy. Every morning, after the hay was loaded, the farmer trotted his mule down to Floyd, loaded him into the car and shipped him back to Fresno. Thus the car was always his.

The scheme worked for ten days and ten trips for the mule in the private car. But it is no more.

Southern Pacific headquarters found it out. From the Flood building went forth an order that the hay car should continue its journey after reaching Floyd, in order to give some other shipper a chance. And if the mule is offered as freight back to Fresno, ran the order, put him in a car with tinware or crockery.

No more private cars for mules.

SAFETY FOR DRIVERS.

The bureau of standards has been experimenting to secure a means of overcoming the fogged glass which obscures the vision of a chauffeur or motorman in rainy weather. Glycerin properly used will overcome this difficulty. It has been used by locomotive engineers for years, but the bureau has thoroughly tested its efficacy with a view to recommending its wider use. The glass should be thoroughly cleaned and then rubbed with a cloth wet with glycerin. When the drops of water strike the coated glass they coalesce, forming a smooth, transparent film, which is no obstruction to vision. The uncoated glass becomes covered with separated drops, which completely befog the surface.

MERELY GOOD BUSINESS.

NEVER HARD TO FIND FAULT

But No One Who Has the Unfortunate Habit Ever Found Himself Extremely Popular.

It is much easier to pick fault with others than to be correct yourself. It is better to be forbearing. No one likes others to be exacting of him about every little mistake or folly. Be not so to others. Be ready to overlook small things, to make allowances. Because you can do this or that or live so or so, it is not to be expected that everyone can do or be the same. Though you may think your way the best, someone else may have just as good ideas—or better. Who made you judge that you can make laws for all? Do you want to toe the mark of another's making? If not, do not expect others to come up to your line. Live your own life the best you can and while you try to help, leave the lives of others to their creator for judgment. A habit of dictating grows on one. It is better to watch out and stop yourself before you begin. If it is part of your business to direct others, do so in the right spirit, with a respect to their rights and your own self-respect. Nagging is belittling to yourself and does harm, not good. It improves or reforms no one. A habit of finding fault renders one disagreeable. Make criticisms and suggestions with great care. Seek what you can commend and emphasize that.—Milwaukee Journal.

HAVE SENSE OF DIRECTION

Feathered Creatures' Ability to Know Their Whereabouts Given an Explanation.

Prof. K. S. Lashley has completed an investigation of the sense of direction in birds. This is called the problem of "orientation." To "orient" means in straight English to know where you are.

Doctor Lashley used the wild bird of the Florida keys, known as noddy and sooty terns, in experiments. In their recognition of their nests, it was found that their eyes as well as their muscles are concerned, says Popular Science. The birds showed no evidence of any special sense of locality such as a "magnetic sense" or a "second sight." Birds are no more "mind readers" than men are.

Nor do they have any ability to retrace their paths of flight by memory. They recognize their nests and their own young by muscle habits and eyesight.

Dr. F. A. McDermoth, another investigator, has observed the oddities in the behavior of houseflies. They have a strong tendency to go with air currents between 80 and 100 degrees. This explains why flies are so bad in hot weather, when it is about to rain. The heat usually ranges toward 100, and the air travels along too slowly to cause the vapor in it to evaporate. The heat, humidity and slow movement of the air give the housefly its "fly time." As pests, they are then in their glory.

OXYGEN FOR WOUNDS.

One of the newest therapeutic measures developed in the European war hospitals is the healing of deep and obstinate wounds by oxygen. It is introduced into an electrical machine, which converts it into ozone. A fine tube running from the machine to the wound conducts a continuous flow into the most remote crevice of the wound. The ozone not only heals the wound quickly but eliminates the use of bandages and surgical dressings, which frequently cause the greatest pain. Obstinate wounds which have been quickly improved by the introduction of ozone.

The Heart of a Friend.

There is a golden binding chain that links the hearts of friends. This chain is mystic welded by the Master's hand; it is sometimes as fragile as rose leaves, sometimes as strong as steel, sometimes as frivolous as laughter, sometimes as solemn as prayers; sure as the return of seasons, constant as the drift of the stars. Distance nor time, silence nor waiting, nor the choice of circumstances can tarnish the chain made bright by some happy hours of close companionship. Nothing can make us forget the sweet comfort of a friend.—Ada M. Kassimer.

Daily Thought.

The life a man leads after his death in the memories of those who loved him is a stronger and better life than any he lived during his physical life.—Butler.

Not a Day in Bed.

Gramling, S. C.—In a letter from Gramling, Mrs. Lula Walden says: "I was so weak before I began taking Cardui, that it tired me to walk just a little. Since taking it, I do all the housework for my family of nine, and have not been in bed a day. Cardui is the great remedy for women, on earth." Weak women need Cardui. It is the ideal women's tonic, because it is especially adapted for women's needs. It relieves backache, headache, dragging feelings, and other female misery. Try Cardui. A few doses will show you what it can do for you. It may be just what you want.—Advertisement.

Diame Placed on Mothers.

It is a reflection upon mothers that the death rate of babies under one year is near 18 per cent of the entire number of deaths in the United States. Such a percentage of loss in the case of sheep or cattle would engage the attention of the department of agriculture. The baby is entirely dependent upon its mother and the care given it. We should talk less about "race suicide" in the ordinary meaning of the term, and more about the murder that is due to ignorance and indifference of mothers who take up the duties of motherhood with no conception of what they really mean.—Exchange.

First Milling Process.

The conversion of wheat into flour was one of the earliest developments of civilization, and even the primitive races in the dawn of history submitted the grain to a coarse pounding between stones. Perhaps the oldest flour "mills" in existence are the rude stones found among the remains of the ancient lake dwellings in Switzerland. By a mortar and pestle arrangement the wheat was reduced to a coarse meal. Crude as this method was, it contained the germ of the modern flour mill.

MACHINE CREATED A STIR

Contrivance Which Alaskan Is Confident Will Work Must Be a Wonder.

A. A. Allen, better known to fame as "Scotty," who was recently elected a member of the Alaskan territorial legislature, proposes to attempt the 1,500-mile trip from his home to Juneau, the capital, in a new mechanical contrivance which is a combination of the airplane, automobile and Yukon bobbed. Allen sold 430 malamute dogs to the French government a while back and spent some time in the Vosges mountains teaching French soldiers how to drive. While thus engaged he observed the maneuvers of airplanes making observations and conceived the idea of his new contrivance, which a California manufacturer built for him. On election day Allen and Nate Coombs, his colleague in the legislature, tried out the new machine at Nome, where it created such amazement among the residents that many of them, after seeing the thing skittering about through the atmosphere, changed their minds and voted for prohibition. It is said that Allen's chief difficulty will be in obtaining gasoline for his engine, a fuel which can be had in Alaska only along well-traveled routes.

Vers Libre.

"Vers Libre" (free verse) is so called because of its freedom from the formal laws governing poetic rhythm. It is by no means "new." Walt Whitman wrote almost entirely in "free" cadences, and Milton, to quote one classic example, used what we would call "vers libre" in the choruses of Samson Agonistes. The demand for "complete metrical freedom" stands out, however, as the most obvious element in "the new poetry."

THE KENTUCKIAN FOR 1917

EVER since the year 1868, the HOPKINSVILLE KENTUCKIAN has been published under one name or another. In 1879 the present name was given and the present management took charge of the paper, which is now in its 39th volume. For almost 40 years it has been a faithful exponent of the growth and development of the city and county. It has written in its files a history of the county covering that long period. It has recorded the birth of three generations in some instances. It has seen the small town develop into a prosperous city with its people ever looking forward to greater things.

During all these years it has had a loyal and constant patronage from the best people of the county. It has many subscribers whose names have not been off its subscription lists in 39 years. In many other families, sons have taken their father's places. We would be ungrateful not to appreciate support like this, but we have never come to the reading public with a stronger appeal for patronage than this year. Conditions have greatly changed and paper stock is three times as high as a year ago.

Many newspapers have advanced rates but in order that the circulation may not be lessened by a higher price the KENTUCKIAN will still be sent for $2.00 a year, the old price. It will be necessary though to adhere rigidly to the cash system, since more than $1.00 must be paid in advance for the paper upon which we print 156 papers and the cost of printing leaves but little profit out of the second dollar. We are asking our old subscribers to stand by us in this crisis by renewing promptly.

All papers not paid for will be Stopped.
Don't Let Yours Stop.

The Price Will be the same $2.00 a Year
as heretofore,

Hopkinsville Kentuckian

SAFETY AT ANY SPEED

In both Series "IS" FOUR and Series "IS" SIX, Studebaker has concentrated in refining, perfecting and strengthening one of the best full-floating axle systems ever put under a car, regardless of price.

In qualities of steel; in development of design; in accuracy of manufacture, Studebaker could not essentially improve on its construction, even if it manufactured a car to sell at a very much higher price.

The weight of the car; the strain of stopping, starting and driving the car; the strain of side-thrust in turning corners at high speed, are all absorbed by the giant strong axle housing, and all of these strains and the weight of the car, are carried on this housing and on big Timken bearings.

40-H. P., 7-Passenger FOUR . . . $ 940

PURELY PERSONAL

Rev. T. R. O'Bryan left yesterday for Essex, Mo., to attend a council meeting of the Missouri Pentecostal Assembly, which will be held from the 18th to the 24th, inclusive.

A. S. Chapin and D. D. Slade, poultry agents, are here for some department work.

Congressmen D. H. Kinchloe and A. W. Barclay left Washington Sunday to attend the W. O. W. meeting here today.

Col. Jouett Henry and other regimental officers are expected home today.

MARRIAGES.

A marriage license was issued Saturday to E. T. Buchanan and Miss Ernestine Mitchell, each 21 years of age, who gave their residence as Madisonville, Ky.

Home building should begin now when money can be gotten for the purpose by becoming a member of the Hopkinsville Building & Loan Association (Incorporated); office at First National Bank. Bailey Russell, Sec.—Advertisement.

R. E. COOPER.

Mr. R. E. Cooper has been notified of his appointment by Gov. Stanley to be Trustee of the Western State Normal School at Bowling Green, Ky. The honor came to him unsolicited and was a complete surprise. Mr. Cooper is very properly recognized as one of the most prominent business men in Western Kentucky.

Bomb Shaped Egg.

Nothing in the freak egg museum beats the freak egg laid by a hen at the home of Commodore Linxwiler, Owensville, Ind. It is bomb shaped with a fuse two inches in length sticking out of the smaller end. The hen is thought to be under the mystic influence of Mars, the war god.

DEATH CLAIMS AGED CITIZEN

Attack of Pneumonia Causes
Demise of J. D. Butler,
Near Bell.

The death of Mr. J. D. Butler, which occurred at the home of one of his sons, Mr. John M. Butler, with whom he had resided for the past several years, near Bell Station, removed from that section one of its oldest citizens, the deceased being in his 83rd year. Pneumonia was the immediate cause of death. Mr. Butler had been a member of the Salem Baptist church for many years and was a man held in the highest esteem by everyone who knew him. Mrs. Butler preceded him to the grave several years ago. The deceased is survived by five children—John M., Eklon, L. E. Butler, Mrs. Gusta Givens, all of this county, and Prof. William Butler, of Texas. The interment took place in the cemetery at Pembroke.

CAYCE WILL CASE

Occupying Attention In Circuit Court Last Several Days.

The contested will case of the late Jas. M. Cayce, begun last week, was still in progress yesterday. The contestants are J. Wheeler Cayce and Elbridge C. Cayce, sons of the deceased.

Mr. Cayce died in January, 1916, at the age of eighty-nine years. His estate was estimated to be about $40,000 and most of this was left to the widow and other relatives to the exclusion of the two sons.

The plaintiffs allege that he was incapable mentally of making a will and was unduly influenced. The trial is attracting much interest and is being hard fought by a strong array of counsel.

The Hopkinsville Building & Loan Association will open its books for subscription for stock in the 71st series on April 1st, 1917.—Advertisement.

DIES OF COMPLICATIONS.

Miss Addie Young died here Friday, aged 79 years. She was a member of a prominent pioneer family and a Christian lady esteemed by a host of friends. Death was due to complications. Her funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. S. Anderson Saturday and the interment took place in the family burying ground, near Howell.

LITTLE LILLIAN ROMAINE FISHER CAN TALK AGAIN

This attractive little lady, is the two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Fisher, 238 North St., Harrisburg, Pa. Last winter she had an attack of measles, together with a very severe cold. Just at that time Druggist S. J. Wilhelm presented Mr. Fisher with a jar of the Southern "outside" treatment—Vick's VapoRub Salve, which was just then being introduced in Harrisburg, and requested that he give this preparation a thorough trial. Mr. Fisher writes—

"I must say that our baby had such a cold on her chest and in her throat that she could hardly talk, and we could not get her to take anything internally. After we used Vick's VapoRub Salve on her breast and throat at night before going to bed she was entirely relieved. No family should be without this preparation. It is externally applied, and so can be used freely—it is absorbed through and penetrates the skin, and, in addition, is inhaled as a vapor. It has a hundred uses for the many minor ailments for which every mother is the doctor. Three sizes, 25c, 50c or $1.00.

FOOD REACHING DANGER MARK

Larger Death Rate; More Suicides and Even Murder of Infants.

London, March 11.—"Thus far only fragmentary reports of the remarkable debate in the Prussian Diet on the food crisis have been printed in the German newspapers," says a dispatch from Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent.

"The Vorwaerts, received today, contains the following passage from the speech of Herr Hofer (a Socialist member of the Prussian Diet):

"The mortality among elderly people is increasing at a terrible rate, while epidemics are spreading everywhere owing to the decreased powers of resistance. The situation is much more serious than has been admitted. The number of suicides is increasing and parents are killing their children owing to their inability to obtain food for them. Yet the price of potatoes, which long ago became generally scarce, is to be increased."

Novel Suit Filed.

The Commonwealth of Kentucky, through M. M. Logan, Attorney-General, has filed suit in Circuit Court at Bowling Green for the use of benefits of the Bowling Green Business Men's Protective Association against the L. & N. Railroad Company, asking for such orders as will compel the company to obey and comply with the order of the Railroad Commission to build a new passenger station. The case will probably be tried in the May term of Circuit Court.

BIG DELEGATION

From Trigg County Coming
To Hopkinsville Next Week.

Trigg county will send a big delegation to Hopkinsville next week to attend the state meeting of the Woodmen of the World, which will be held in that city next Tuesday and Wednesday, March 13th and 14th. Most of Trigg's delegation will go up Monday. Following are some of the delegates from the county:

Linton, Fred Harrell.
Bethesda, J. Ben Faughn.
Cadiz, H. M. Prather and Allen Lawrence, with John E. Edwards and Porter Piercy, alternates.
G. P. Thomas, Past Head Consul; John S. Lawrence, delegate to the last Sovereign Camp, and O. R. Marlow, who is one of the committees, are also members of the Head Camp. A number of other Woodmen from the county will attend the Hopkinsville meeting.—Cadiz Record.

Can You Tell?

Who dreamed of a ladder to the skies?
On whom was sent a plague of flies?
Who played a harp to please King Saul?
Who read the writing on the wall?
What city saw the birth of Paul?
What prophet was by ravens fed?
What king slept on a great iron bed?
Who was killed by treacherous Jael?
Who slew the followers of Baal?
Who was swallowed by a whale?
What Hebrew King is called "The Preacher?"
Who was Paul, the apostles' teacher?
What prophet did wicked children mock?
Who smote the water from the rock?
Who answered Simon Peter's knock?
What creature was first to leave the Ark?
What worker with Paul was uncle to Mark?
What hungry man his birthright sold?
Who made a calf of molten gold?
What judge a famous riddle told?
